From the Commercial & Financial Chronicle, March 1893, page
160---these schemes are nothing new---

Silver Bullion Certificates.—The silver bullion certificates dealt in on the N. Y. Stock Exchange represent each 1,000 ounces of fine silver bullion deposited with the Mercantile Safe Deposit Co. of New York City. They are subject to a storage charge of one cent per day per 1,000 ounces. On Nov. 22, 1892, the Safe Deposit Company reported in its possession in trust for outstanding certificates 1,459,000 ounces of silver bullion.

I released "Confused Goldbugs" in March 2003 and have written very little since then about persons who favor one metal over the other. I owned some gold and last fall I traded it to my dealer for silver. Now I'm down to two gold dental crowns and the title to gold production I own in mining shares. You will not read me stating the extent of what I own, that is for strutting fools who don't have much metal or for regulatory filing requirements of public companies. Metal should be privately owned and bragging about how much you own (I see it on You Tube) is very foolhardy and shows a senseless ego. We hear much about the gold to silver or if you prefer the silver to gold ratio. Establishing the history of this ratio is easy and there should be no dispute about the records of the ratio. Especially at the close of the Napoleonic Wars in 1816 England showed itself favoring gold over silver. It was about elites keeping common people down. The money powers of North America, overwhelmingly in league with their British senior partners, were very hostile towards monetary silver. The Crime of 1873 is often cited as the best example of this hostility; it is very likely the apex instance of the elite's war on silver. Contrary to myth, the Bank of England was secondary in the Crime of '73 behind a cluster of super powerful San Francisco based gold mining magnates---James B. Haggin, his brother in law Lloyd Tevis, Collis P. Huntington, Darius Ogden Mills especially. None Jewish by the way! It was about seizing land, homes, farms, ranches, cattle, businesses, crops and import cargoes from "silverites" by the nefarious "gold only" faction, and note that the gold only faction eventually transited to "paper only," with Haggin being a mastermind of the Panic of 1907 via Knickerbocker Trust, while all people ever write about is J.P. Morgan, while Haggin as "the greatest mine owner on Earth" with 160 mines including the great Homestake Gold mine in South Dakota and the world's two biggest copper mines was MUCH wealthier than Morgan! --- <http://nosilvernationalization.org/189.pdf> (287 pages and NO "PAY WALL!") ---

"The Greatest Mine Owner On Earth."

James B. Haggin (Pilgrims NYC 1907) beat the "unbeatable el supremos" the ROTHSCILDS in six of six rounds in the world copper and gold markets in the 1890's, warning the "CHILDS" family, "The difficulties are yours, not ours, and you must prepare for the CONSEQUENCES." Naturally he was Episcopalian! He was also back of the Crime of 1873 and the Panic of 1907! Everything in the high finance world does NOT trace to this "CHILDS" family" (they are "Roth-SCHILDS" and not "Roths-CHILDS!" OKAY??

Let's get down to the present. This won't be any detailed lengthy investigation. I have one underway about the Astor and Drexel families, historic silver suppressors. The original Astor was known as "Landlord of New York" and he was the top domestic power in the second United States Bank (1816-1836) and it was a Drexel who was known as mentor of the original J.P. Morgan Senior! The Astor and Drexel families and genealogically interlocked dynasties conspiring against the common man in The Pilgrims Society are very much on the scene in 2019 and are apex elitists; the Drexels are out to seize immense mineral wealth on the seafloors. Both families have been in management of The Pilgrims Society and are leaders of it to this moment. The sad pitiful unfortunates who decided “the Rothschilds run world finance all by themselves” gave themselves a chance to be Jew baiters and criminally lazy to boot, as their notion excuses them from researching any other dynastic families! I will release this Astor/Drexel research on completion. Those who read it will get much more than they expect! So far it has 800 plus illustrations with documented text! Dave Janda and Greg Hunter will refuse to allow any mention of it, of course; especially since they only promote things offered for purchase prices and people having “pay walls!” 100% free info providers are not cool and never get admission into the money grubbing Circle of Peers who “mine” the rank and file for money, having bamboozled them to believe their light shines dimly next to that of their self appointed leaders.

Several interesting dates; January 25, 1972 saw the U.S. Government lift a ban on Rhodesian mined silver. It was of course lifted to ease the shortage caused 100% by low capped prices. Among those (nonmembers) affected by the government meddling against silver was Jack Simplot, Idaho’s top potato growing kingpin who owned a huge cattle ranch 64 miles wide and 137 miles long! Simplot started with 600 hogs and parlayed it into a fortune. Harry F. Magnuson associated with Bunker Hill Mining Company was another silver figure damaged by the Pilgrims Society Silver Cartel. Not until August 10, 1972 did the Nixon administration's Fascist Cost of Living Council finally exempt domestic mined silver from price controls and domestic mined silver had been capped at $1.61 the troy ounce! Of course, Tiffany & Company's fabricated silver items weren't price capped. The lifting of the illegal price cap on silver only came THREE MONTHS after 91 silver mining workers died in a fire with lots of carbon monoxide gas at the 3700 foot level of the Sunshine Silver Mine in Idaho. Mining companies, their employees and shareholders for decades have been treated as slaughter cattle by the price riggers because they want Federal Reserve notes to look valuable. April 21, 1975 very sadly saw the initiation of operations of the benighted Commodity Futures Trading Commission. Simplot and Magnuson---

The time for precious metals prices to be in the toilet are nearing terminal status. Regardless of being worn out for years hearing this, the treasure galleon is finally near to port! Now, what will the “gold only” investor do to use their hard gold coin and wafer bullion as barter transaction money, if the banking system fails and remains shuttered for several months? If a new more controllable fiat currency is issued, FEDCOIN perhaps, dragging its users further into the WEB of the BEAST SYSTEM? What will become of the gold-silver ratio, which so many “think” should normally be something like 1 ounce of gold to 80+ ounces of silver, when the only metallic currency the self defeating “gold only” faction holds---is gold? The smallest practical size of gold coin as in a USA coin is the one tenth ounce American Gold Eagle coin. Pieces of jewelers casting shot, gold or silver, aren’t standardized weights and unsuitable for barter. 90% coin will be met with a lower “doubt rate” than other forms of silver.

Let’s say the gold only investor has all his gold in Canadian Maple Leaf one-twentieth ounce gold coins in .9999 purity. Checking an online dealer that’s well known (Oklahoma) I see these priced at $87.85 per coin. So at the same time with this same dealer for $87.85 you could own 50 Roosevelt 90% silver dimes for $64.27; about 68 silver dimes for the price of ONE gold coin of one twentieth an ounce. These aren’t much different from dimes in size. Most investors when comparing the one twentieth gold to the one tenth ounce gold coin will quickly realize that the tenth ounce is a much better value. Reason being manufacturing premiums are in play. So the average investor will opt to have one-tenth oz gold rather than the smaller unit. At this point we notice (figures are based on February 23, 2019 prices) that for the price of one single tenth ounce American Gold Eagle ($150.39) correlated to their price for silver dimes, you could have how many dimes? 117 dimes! Prices are in flux; quotes are only current as this is written.

Now there are other points to be made. Where to start? 1) the same amount invested in a single tenth ounce gold gets you a “coin count” ratio of 117 to 1 favoring silver and that is potentially 117 transactions versus one (depending on variables) and 2) precious metal coins, wafers, bars or ingots aren't like a liquid measure of water, you take the entire coin/coins; you can't hack them into pieces like butter off a stick; 3) the same amount of expenditure in silver gives far more maneuverability or flexibility--it's obviously easier to fractionalize---a barter transaction for food, gasoline, clothing, shoes, bullets, medicine or whatever. If the seller is willing to be paid less than half the value of your one-tenth ounce gold coin for his goods, how will he/she give you change? Will you find yourself confronted with either overpaying, or getting an excess of something, or nothing at all because the seller can't provide change? Will you refuse silver as change if the seller has no gold? Issues will arise smoothing out such attempted transactions and holders of 90% silver coins will gain ascendancy. Few Americans have protected themselves with PMs. Now we get to 4) Regardless of what anyone says that the cost of silver is based only on the cost of production, that gets into some severe falsities (for ex, polymetallic miners "tossing" byproduct silver, misleading these writers about the cost of silver); the ratio has been way over-skewed for generations; the "gold only" faction has outsmarted itself by holding gold only! However, so many gold only investors may hold one ounce gold coins ONLY; what will they do to barter these for a load of groceries valued at several hundred dollars, and the store can't give change and gold is valued at $8,000 the ounce? Meantime, silver will have increased by a factor of 5x or more over gold, much of the increase driven by the problem of gold becoming priced out of reach for many. Will the gold only zealot (right word) tell the grocer "you can only give me change in gold," then what happens? Gold will be great for buying a house, better car, an array of major appliances, or diamonds (which you wouldn't be likely to need, and will almost certainly be "skinned" on selling!)

I became concerned about holding 100 oz silver bars so traded them all for one ounce bars. Same with 50 ounce bars; ten ounce bars are big enough; people holding 1,000 oz bars will mostly regret it, and envy people who bought the same silver total as one ounce bars; holders of one ounce rounds will envy those with abundant silver dimes. No decrease in silver held; huge increase in maneuverability for transactions. I doubt a one ounce gold item will ever catch a 100 oz silver bar, and will accelerate in favor of silver as gold rises. 1,000 ounce bars have too much actual weight variation, usually assay is demanded (could also apply to 100s), weigh most of 70 pounds, and are unsuitable for everything besides land and large transactions.

Furthermore many have noted, and rightly so, that “silver only” investors will arrive at a moment when they can end up with more gold than “gold only” investors, because when the ratio normalizes and even overshoots, those with silver can trade silver ounces for gold ounces and so end up with much more hard gold later than what they could have had if they’d been buying gold only all along! Gold only folks yammer “silver is only an industrial metal,” and so what? That adds to its value as money metal, that so many will be demanding silver for its plethora of applications!

At this time, certainly gold has advantages over silver, real advantages. Mainly, the greater ease of storage and transport due to much lighter weight and bulk space needed. That will correct in time, and after we've long since grown whiskers, the time is on the near horizon. I LOVE gold, I think gold is great. I never aggressively bought other than silver due to its higher appreciation prospects. Please don't hamstring yourself with gold only as emergency money! It would function nicely to buy an automobile, a house, central air conditioning system and major appliances, new roof, medical costs. For food, gas and so many basic needs, silver will serve far better and as the suppressed silver ratio becomes rectified, silver's returns will embarrass those of gold. It may also be that silver only investors may wish they had some copper one ounce coins! But silver dimes give huge flexibility!

Another inevitable problem with gold for barter is due to the concentration of value in smaller units than silver, many will be asking, "hey, how do I know this is gold and not heavy gold plating over copper?" Businesses will have to get testing capabilities for coins/bars to be accepted in commerce; with silver the barriers are less stringent, there is less caution present due to smaller value amounts in most cases involved and one ounce silver coins resonate convincingly. IMO and many others have said it, copper must be remonetized as subsidiary to silver.

We may see some ploys by federal and state governments to squelch gold's privacy, its anonymity, by facilitating its use in such a way as to draw gold holders out into the open, while silver holders, not needing such "facilitation," retain more confidentiality for their dealings. Why do governments think they have to know how many hairs we have in each armpit? The mentality of invasive control is disgraceful.

The Texas State Bullion Depository still has this booby trap feature in the language of the bill that brought it about, "other than by an authority of this State," that is, Texas told Uncle Sam he can't come grab the contents, BUT THE STATE OF TEXAS CAN GRAB IT! However, read on, they may have hit a bump in the road regarding that!

Now, some very positive news, and very unexpected---

U.S. Supreme Court votes 9 to zero to restrict States, counties and cities powers to impose excessive fines.

Why the US Supreme Court's new ruling on excessive fines is a big ...

<https://www.vox.com/.../supreme-court-timbs-v-indiana-ruling-excessive-fines-civil-f...> ▼

Feb 20, 2019 - The US Supreme Court on Wednesday ruled 9-0 that the Constitution's ban on excessive fines, written into the Eighth Amendment, applies to the states as well — a sweeping ruling that strengthens property rights and could limit controversial police seizures, such as those done through civil forfeiture, nationwide.

I'm unclear how this would apply to insanities like $2,500 per day code violation on a house overvalued at $130,000 by greedy property tax districts for having a pile of twigs you delayed to pick up. After 52 days you'd have your house stolen over nothing. Considering a move to another city? Move where there's the lowest per capita municipal bond debt! This ruling should turn loose a landslide of lawsuits against that most arrogant level of government---“municipal” government, which I find to be an unbearably obscene word, even more so than HOA's, home owners associations.

If Beto O' Rourke wins the next Presidential race, be certain he'll scream for severe windfall profits taxes on all precious metals shares and probably grab for your hard metal, guns and bullets also. He'll demand you allow illegals to occupy any vacant rooms in your house! He'll have the Mark of the Beast laser inscribed on your retinas, and draft you to work overseas in some United Nations hell hole! I see no way anyone could be a radical as Beto.

If you own mining shares you best watch news like a hawk.

Especially after hours announcements and on weekends. Mining companies have huge exposure to Mexico, which is aggrieved due to the border fracas, and undying memories of the loss of some 900,000 square miles of territory at the close of the Mexican American War of 1846-1847. The Wall Street Journal of January 25, 1980, reported Mexico imposing a 40% tax for silver mined at over $10 the ounce. As PEMEX the Mexican national oil company struggles, politicians there are likely to draw blood from any other sector suddenly flush with prosperity! You need to be ready with a sell order before market open in event of pre-market negative news! On January 24, 1980, on the Mexican Bolsa de Inversiones also known as Bolsa de Valores, trading in silver mining shares was temporarily suspended. Por supuesto, alguienes malhechores con hediondez alla que nacieron de culebras en las parillas del infierno y sin ombligo y que tienen cabezones de mierda y cara de lagarto y calaveras rellenas de avispaos mortiferos que pican con gran dolor hicieron el golpe contra riqueza como relampago.

My father's parents migrated from French Quebec to New Hampshire and he to Texas. He as a French and English speaker insisted Spanish was the second language I most needed here.

Lastly I want to touch on a problem in the alt news, gold and silver, anti-war, pro-liberty community. That is the problem of refusal to acknowledge the role, or even the existence of The Pilgrims Society playing in influencing our lives and destinies for the worse. I sent the following to lew@lewrockwell.com on 3/21/19. No response received! Something's wrong when your "community leaders" make it a particular point to evade and blacklist this situation.

"RE--- Tucker Carlson in deep nest of WARMONGERS!"

https://www.lewrockwell.com/2019/02/no_author/the-american-ruling-class-2/

"I noticed he has nothing to say about being a second generation member of this British Empire organization that dragged America into both World Wars! They were mentioned first in “War Plotters of Wall Street” (1915) by Charles Collman. I have written so extensively criticizing them that they mentioned me by name in January 2012 at www.pilgrimsociety.org and regardless of ridiculing my conclusions have not offered to sue me, despite having the top lawyers in Manhattan as members. In fact, six months after my site www.silverstealers.net went up, they finally responded with www.pilgrimsociety.org A feature on the American ruling class that makes no faint mention of THE top group of the ruling class! Friend, that is a travesty! Do you care to notify your readers of Carlson’s Pilgrims activities? If not, why not? The great, great grandson of “the greatest mine owner on Earth” James B. Haggin (1827-1914) is a member same as his ancestor, and this is THE ruling class! No answer---is an answer!”

MAJOR silver antagonist Paul Volcker!

Carlson, The Hon Richard W
Carlson, Tucker S M

There is a PARALYSIS going on in the thought processes of so many in the “freedom” community. They don’t want to hear ANYTHING about this shadow organization! So they just don’t respond. Same with Bob Moriarty at 321 Gold, a site I read daily. On February 19, 2019, Bob linked “Do You Believe in the Deep State Now” by The American Conservative <https://www.theamericanconservative.com/articles/do-you-believe-in-the-deep-state-now/> The story content has nothing to say about The Pilgrims Society nor even about the far more publicly visible Council on Foreign Relations. I wrote to Bob and all Bob can comprehend is Zionist/Israeli influence in America; Bob can’t grasp any overarching British influence, nor any organized conspiracy to demonetize and devalue silver. I gave Bob the quote from Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon from “The Economist” of July 7, 1963, page 166, “Silver bullion will be released on demand to prevent silver rising.” He ridiculed my conclusions of a conspiracy. I replied that in the 1930s Western Senators were complaining about British attacks against the silver price, all heavily documented at <http://silverstealers.net/tss.html> and with that, Bob had no more to say.

He refused to agree, but he had no more attempted rejoinders. Can't people admit they've been wrong? I messaged The American Conservative and they simply, like The Great, The Outstanding Mister Lew Rockwell, the man from whom the sun itself draws its energy, refused any response. This is the comedy character who founded the Mises Institute. I can't abide cover up artists blocking public view of this PILGRIMS SOCIETY TUMOR in American life!

Bob skipped a recent swipe at gold prices made by "Sunshine Profits" Przemyslaw Radomski, who carries on like an extreme permabear. Moriarty may have tired of linking him, as gold appears to NOT be poised to swoon like Pre Cole Slaw says. Beware people leading you into ruin, very possibly fronting for shorts. The more Sunshine Profits bear warnings about gold get linked, the worse for them. This pressure cooker has been held back just about as long as it can be.

Bob recently linked <https://www.marketwatch.com/story/gold-will-keep-rising-here-are-13-ways-to-profit-from-the-rally-2019-02-22> which mentions Thomas Winmill (not "windmill") and T.W.'s name is in The Pilgrims 2014 NYC roster. Winmill runs (among nonrelated other interests) the Midas Gold Fund. His middle initial "B" stands for "Basset," probably showing linkage to earlier Pilgrims members. Here he is in the 2014 roster which is definitely very difficult to come by---no; he couldn't mention it in a Bloomberg interview---

Wilson, Peter
Wince-Smith, The Hon Deborah L
Winmill, Thomas B

Peter S. Wilson of Cravath, Swaine & Moore, traces to 1819 and William H. Seward, who as Secretary of State made the Alaska Purchase from Russia. Seward was maternal grandfather of Sir Ivor Seward Richard, who was British Ambassador to the U.N. and was the only Pilgrims member I ever had opportunity to confront face to face and was he shocked I knew anything about them. Paul Cravath of the law firm founded the Council on Foreign Relations in 1921 as an “outer ring” below The Pilgrims. Cravath was a very loud voice for dragging America into World War One. This law firm has worked with many silver suppressing banks. The woman in this list (a minority of members are women since 1977) has degrees from King’s College and Queens University, more of so many proofs this Pilgrims Society is a Royalist organization---

The Honorable Deborah L. Wince-Smith
President & CEO

Deborah L. Wince-Smith is the president & CEO of the Council on Competitiveness, a coalition of CEOs, university presidents, labor leaders and national laboratory directors, committed to driving U.S. competitiveness. She has more than 20 years of experience as a senior U.S. government official, as the first Senate-confirmed Assistant Secretary for Technology Policy in the U.S. Department of Commerce and Assistant Director for International Affairs in the Reagan White House.

<https://www.compete.org/about/senior-staff/3182>

“Ms. Wince-Smith is also the president of the Global Federation of Competitiveness Councils, whose creation she led. She is a member of Japan’s Science & Technology in Society Forum Council and of the Commission on the Theft of Intellectual Property, co-chaired by Mr. Craig Barrett, former chairman of Intel Corporation and Admiral Dennis Blair, former U.S. director of national Intelligence. She serves on Purdue University’s Strategic Research Advisory Council and on the boards of several private-sector organizations including, The American College in Greece, the oldest American-accredited college in Europe and the largest private college in Greece.”

Ms. Wince-Smith has served as the vice-chair and chair of the World Economic Forum’s Global Agenda Council on Competitiveness. She was previously a member of the Smithsonian National Board and the Naval Academy Foundation Board.”

A fair and reasonable question to the readers, if they will---WHY IS THERE THIS AREA THAT ALL THEIR “LEADERS” ARE AFRAID TO GO TO? Our destinies are profoundly shaped by members of “by invitation only” elitist membership groups, with the Council on Foreign Relations being the most visible. But it all leads back up into The Pilgrims Society, called “the first organization” in The Review of Reviews, May 1902, New York, page 557.

Moriarty’s site is the best you can find for resource stock picks, for two reasons 1) the stock picks are equal or better than any other site and anyone’s paid subscription newsletter and 2) there is no access fee to pay to GET these picks! But as to an organized plan to suppress silver prices, Bob’s mentality disallows any consideration of far too many coincidences. Pilgrims V.P. Kissinger (Rockefeller family agent) with Trump---Trump looks sour, probably due to how well aware he is that he answers to this SHADOW ORGANIZATION---Salinas Price writing a public letter to Trump asking for remonetizing silver has the usual snowball’s chance in hell---Kissinger croaking won’t change anything---

Trump with Pilgrims Society executive Committee member Woody Johnson (Ambassador to England), owns New York Jets, Johnson & Johnson fortune---

No member shall make use of the name or address of the Society for purposes of advertisement, or for any purpose the Committee may decide to be detrimental to the interests of the Society.

“Your work on silver is better than I have seen from anyone” ---received from Bob Moriarty of 321 Gold, 2/25/13 still in my received files, Bob.

It was in reference to “Correcting Antal Fekete’s Historical Silver Errors” which to my huge surprise Bob linked. He sees no Anglo-American world empire scheme, however!

Let’s mention Ted Butler. How many have noticed Ted ever saying much of anything about the Federal Reserve wanting low silver prices, because it fears silver becoming a competing currency? Ted was able to grasp industrial users wanting to get raw material on the cheap, exploiting miners and taxpayers alike. But when it comes to silver and the MONETARY system? Ted FLATLINES! Silver and gold are historic money. The FED does not want competitors! Why is that tough for Ted to understand? Why would Ted think the Justice Department would do anything about silver price rigging? He’s trying to scratch a diamond with a feather. Maurice Sonnenberg, a huge but very publicity starved by intent, figure in the intelligence and defense communities, was senior international adviser to major silver short Bears Stearns till its crash in 2008. Sonnenberg, worth in the nine figure range (or more) is among the minority of USA Pilgrims Society members who are Jewish and you can guess besides England what other nation he has ties to. But the British Anglicans are only using Israel for another World War catalyst. Sonnenberg has acted as adviser to five Presidential administrations and is active in the National Committee on American Foreign Policy (globalists and warmongers) and was on the National Commission on Terrorism. False flags, anyone? Excuses for military intervention? Sonnenberg had huge influence in the USA Patriot Act; he was associated with Morgan Chase after its takeover of Bear Stearns. Sonnenberg started his career as a staffer for Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin, who voted for the 1965 Coinage Act, removing most silver from our money system!

SEE PEOPLE? SILVER MANIPULATION HAPPENS, BUT THERE IS NO ORGANIZED CONSPIRACY TO DO IT! THEY'RE ALL JUST DOING IT CONSISTENTLY AS SLEEPWALKERS, according to sources like GATA and Moriarty!

Why is GATA, 24 Hour Gold etcetera willing to fault find the FED, Treasury, Bank of England, IMF etc., but when it comes to mentioning membership organizations of the elitists who run these banks? GATA suddenly has no fingers to hit the keyboard with! OK that's it. Food for thought, ask these "community heroes" to answer---why does The Pilgrims Society rate zero coverage?

Are you worn out hearing people yammering “Deep State” and “redacted?” You sure should be, because people who keep mumbling these buzzwords are covering up; or unwilling to get to the marrow of things! Once they belch out “Deep State,” there’s no need for any specifics about the Council on Foreign Relations, much less The Pilgrims Society.

I’m close to completion on the Astor/Drexel families and if you want “in depth” you’ll get a trainload! It’s a free e-book with over 800 scans and images! The Astors are not Rothschilds, neither are the Drexels Rothschilds. Aww gee, just no one has any faint particle of influence in the finance world besides the Rothschilds! This “Rothschild only” cult mythology is a virulent virus obstructing probes into OTHER wealth groups, and it shows a huge laziness! You won’t find any faint trace of these details anywhere else, especially not in for purchase books by establishment hack historians who are bribed with fellowships and foundation grants and employment contracts to cover up what people most need to know. When I began this public interest research most of 20 years ago, I was certain the alt news community would give much coverage. I eventually realized that “coverage” is ONLY for people having things to market to audiences for purchase. Then the interviewers all insist the guests aren't paying for obvious business boosters. Really, how can such dishonesty be so rampant? By insisting guests don't pay to be on, hosts can raid the candy jar labeled "donations" while beguiling the audience that guests come on for free. Where however are the guests not marketing things? Marketing and advertising should not be labeled other than what it is.
